Careers

ABOUT

At ARFIMA, we believe that our main asset is our people. We are dedicated to create an exciting and challenging workplace to attract talented and motivated individuals. Everyone in our workplace is strongly encouraged to move forward every day, to learn and to innovate using our in-house training program.

OPEN POSITIONS

Junior Quant Researcher (Madrid)

Responsibilities

- Develop trading models using leading edge mathematical and computational techniques.
- Back test and implement trading strategies.
- Analyze and manipulate large sets of time series data.
- Experience in developing algorithmic trading strategies.
- Develop pricing models for financial securities.

Desired Skills and experience

- PhD or close from a renowned university in a quantitative subject such as Mathematics, Physics, or Statistics.
- Strong Matlab/S-Plus/R/SAS/Python essential.
- Strong data analysis skills, especially large datasets.
- Strong communication skills in English.
- Experience at building quantitative fixed income models is highly valued.
- Knowledge of equity algorithmic strategies would be a plus.
- Experience in a team work environment.

CONTACT

Please, send your resume together with a cover letter to azamora@arfimaspain.com
For more information, visit our website www.arfimaspain.com